

Motions to Reconsider to Reopen or Reinstate a Case

The Trustee will consent to motions to reconsider or reopen cases provided the debtor can bring the case current through the date of the hearing on the motion. The debtor can remit funds to the Trustee prior to the hearing on the motion by making an electronic payment. Proof of submission of the electronic payment must be provided to the Trustee in advance of the hearing.

The Trustee does not generally object to motions to reconsider or reopen solely to convert.

Please be advised these requirements are separate from those of chambers. At this time, chambers requires debtors to be present at the hearing on the motion, and may require some explanation or testimony. Motions to reconsider are rarely granted if the dismissal is with prejudice.
